

SK Hynix Inc. (000660.KS)

Announces W40tn share buyback/cancellation, with more to come; expect positive impact on EPS and share price; reiterate Buy

000660.KS 12m Price Target: W3,500,000 Price: W1,500,000 Upside: 133.3%

After market close on August 19, Hynix announced a W40tn share buyback and cancellation, which implies approximately 3.3% of issued shares based on August 18 closing price. Share buyback is expected to commence from August 20 and will be executed within 3 months with daily purchase volumes undefined.

As for the reason behind today's share buyback announcement, Hynix stated that current share price does not accurately reflect its value, and therefore decided for a share buyback and cancellation for effective capital allocation and shareholder value enhancement. Hynix also updated its shareholder return target from 50% to a minimum 50% of 3-year cumulative FCF, which would be executed through both share buyback and dividends. The company is also considering to expand its dividends including both fixed and special dividends, and plans to update a detailed shareholder return plan including both buybacks and dividends around its 3Q26 earnings call (expected end-October).

Implications from the W40tn buyback and cancellation

- Based on its recent quarterly dividend disclosure on August 7 when it also mentioned that it will announce an additional shareholder return plan within 3Q26, as well as our recent discussion with investors, we believe the general expectation from the market was that Hynix would announce an additional shareholder return plan around end-August to early-September, so we believe this announcement was slightly earlier-than-expected.
- We believe another positive takeaway was that the company implied that this additional shareholder return was not a one-time event, but there would likely be more to come including both buybacks and dividends, with the details likely out around end-October.

- We believe this buyback and cancellation would be more than offsetting the dilution from the issuance of 17.7mn shares for the company's recent ADR listing, as 24mn shares (based on August 18 closing price) would be canceled.
- With the company raising its 2025-2027 shareholder return target to 50%+ of FCF from 50% previously, we believe it shows the strong confidence level in its business outlook led by the memory upcycle and the cash generation capability resulting from it.
- We expect the company's 2025-2027E cumulative FCF to reach around W252tn, and assume ~55% of its FCF to be paid to shareholders, which is around W140tn. With the company announcing the W40tn buyback, and considering we are currently modeling the company to pay a cumulative dividend of ~W30tn during the current shareholder return policy period, we currently assume another ~W70tn in buyback and cancellation to be done during the remainder of the current policy period.
- At the current market cap, our shareholder return assumptions for Hynix imply roughly a 3.5% shareholder return yield for 2026E and 8% yield for 2027E.
- We raise our 2026E/2027E/2028E EPS estimates by 4%/10%/10% to reflect the buyback and cancellation announcement, as well as our assumption of additional buybacks reducing the number of shares and hence raising EPS estimates.

Price Target Risks and Methodology - SK Hynix Inc.

Valuation methodology: Our 2026E/27E avg. P/E-based 12m TP is W3,500,000, applying a target P/E multiple of 9.0X.

Key risks: Key risks include 1) major deterioration in memory supply/demand and delay in technology migration, 2) weaker demand for smartphones/PCs/servers which would impact overall conventional memory demand, 3) Samsung's positive HBM business progress which would impact HBM revenue and profit, 4) lower AI-related capex which would impact overall HBM demand, and thus HBM revenue/profit for the company.

Investment Thesis – SK Hynix Inc.

SK Hynix (Hynix) is the leader in the HBM market, the second-largest DRAM supplier, and one of the leading NAND suppliers globally. We expect one of the strongest memory upcycles to pan out throughout 2026, as the incrementally higher AI spending mainly from the hyperscalers and their intentions to continue to do so is driving our view that memory demand from servers (server DRAM, SOCAMM, HBM, and eSSD) will significantly outpace supply, hence we are Buy rated on the name.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (or financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (or financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (or financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs or the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock’s total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region’s Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts’ investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
